

PRIVATE HOME IN THE - EJE CAFETERO - IN COLOMBIA

This private home, built in the heart of the Colombian Coffee region, is a tourist destination visited by travelers from all over the world.

Its owner, a Spanish national, immediately fell in love with the Green Magic Homes system and built their home surrounded by natural gardens.

The roof of this structure was planted with a decorative plant called Pinto Peanuts (Arachis pintoi), providing permanent foliage of lime green leaves and yellow flowers, which flowers all year round in the beautiful Colombian tropics.

It's always fresh interior offers total comfort in the middle of the sunny days that characterize the beautiful Colombian coffee region.

An Architecture never before seen, which contributes a healthy new concept and respectful living together with our beloved Planet Earth.

